RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

2014-present Clinic Director
 Integrative Behavioral Health Clinic
 University of Missouri School of Social Work

The IBHC is a free clinic for mid-Missourians who are uninsured or under-insured and in need of mental health care. The clinic is staffed by student social workers under the supervision of LCSWs. Services provided include short and long term therapy using evidence-based practices, comprehensive needs assessments, group therapy, case management, and suicide assessment. I co-founded and currently co-direct the IBHC. I oversee all research and evaluation activity through the clinic.

2011-2012 Project Director
 Principal Investigators: Matt Epperson, Ph.D. & Art Lurigio, Ph.D.
 The School of Social Service Administration, The University of Chicago & Loyola University
Mental health courts and specialized mental health probation units
 Funded by: National Institute of Justice

The aim of the project is to research the effectiveness of mental health courts and specialized probation units for adults with a mental illness and criminal justice involvement. In this study, I am assisting in the preparation for data collection. I will also be conducting both semi-structured and structured interviews with staff and consumers and taking a leadership role in analyzing data using qualitative methods.

- 2009-2014 Center Participant
Principal Investigator: Patrick Corrigan, Psy.D.
Chicago Satellite Center to the Center on Adherence and Self-Determination, Illinois Institute of Technology
Funded by: National Institute of Mental Health (Grant #P20 MH085981)
- The Satellite Center meetings are forums for discussing mental health service research needs relating to the intersection of treatment adherence, stigma, and empowerment. In addition, the group discusses ways to maximize research dissemination. As a Center member, I participate in interdisciplinary team meetings, present research ideas, constructively critique proposed projects from other members, and collaborate in the development of research agendas for affiliates of the Center.
- 2009-2011 Research Assistant
Investigator: Amy Watson, Ph.D.
University of Illinois at Chicago
Mental health court evaluation
- The aim of the project was to assist a mental health court in evaluating their practices and effectiveness. In this evaluation, I developed a database using SPSS and analyzed quantitative, longitudinal outcome data. I also assisted in the dissemination of results by presenting and discussing findings with mental health court administrators.
- 2008-2011 Research Assistant
Principal Investigators: Beth Angell, Ph.D. & Amy Watson, Ph.D.
Rutgers, The State University of New Jersey & University of Illinois at Chicago
Chicago Police Department's Crisis Intervention Team (CIT) study
- The aim of this research is to investigate the impact of crisis intervention teams in Chicago. In this study, I took a leadership role in collecting and analyzing data from semi-structured interviews with members of the Chicago Police Department. I worked collaboratively with the principal investigators to conduct a grounded dimensional analysis of the data. I was first author on two peer-reviewed papers and a conference presentation.
- 2006-2008 Research Assistant
Principal Investigator: Irene Elkin, Ph.D.
The School of Social Service Administration, The University of Chicago
Therapist responsiveness study
- The aim of this research was to examine the effect of therapist responsiveness on individual therapy retention. I assisted in the development of a measure of responsiveness and in rating the incidence of responsive gestures by therapists in videotaped counseling sessions.
- 2002-2003 Field Researcher/Lab Assistant
New York City Department of Health, New York, NY
Health Research Training Program
West Nile and vector study
- The aim of the project was to track the migration patterns of West Nile Virus to prevent spreading westbound. In this study, I conducted fieldwork, which included collecting mosquito samples and surveying migration. I also sorted and prepared mosquito specimens for West Nile testing.
- 1998-2000 Clinical Research Intern
Community Cancer Care, Indianapolis, IN

Oncology symptom control research

The aim of the research initiative was to identify approaches to ease the impact of chemotherapy side effects for individuals with cancer and to assess the mental health needs of individuals receiving treatment. In a series of studies, I collected data through interviews, depression screenings, and assessments.

1998-2001 Research Assistant
Principal Investigator: Scott Ross, Ph.D.
Department of Psychology, Depauw University
Personality & achievement

The aim of the research was to examine the relationship between achievement-related constructs and personality traits. In this study, I collected data, assisted in multivariate analysis of quantitative data, presented findings at regional conferences, and co-authored peer-reviewed papers.

TEACHING

My teaching interests include:

- Evidence-based clinical social work practice with individuals and groups
- Social work and mental illness

- Social work practice with aging populations
- Mental health service delivery innovations
- Social work and criminal justice
- Utilization of research in social work practice
- Mixed methods approach to research

TEACHING EXPERIENCE

2012-present Assistant Professor
 Master's Level Courses: Direct Practice (SW 7730)—in-person and online
 DSM & Psychopathology (SW7820)—in person and online
 Doctoral Level Courses: Research Methods I (SW 9300)

2008 (Fall) Teaching Assistant
 2009 (Fall) The School of Social Service Administration, The University of Chicago
 Instructor: Noriko Martinez, Ph.D.
 Course: Cognitive Approach to Practice I (SSA 413)

This course addresses the theory and practical application of the cognitive-integrative approach to social work practice, which highlights cognitive-behavioral theory and environmental impacts on mental health. My responsibilities included assisting in course planning and the development of group activities, facilitating group discussion on applying theory to practice, teaching one-on-one sessions with students, grading weekly assignments, providing detailed comments for weekly assignments and midterm evaluations, and grading final papers.

2004-2007 Field Instructor
 Mount Sinai Hospital/Stepping-Up Psychiatric Rehabilitation, Chicago, IL

I provided supervision to Master's level social work interns from Loyola University's School of Social Work and the University of Illinois at Chicago, Jane Addams College of Social Work. I worked with my supervisor to instruct and mentor students when I was a Licensed Social Worker (2004-2005). After obtaining my LCSW in 2005, I conducted weekly supervision, reviewed process recordings, led clinical case presentations, and mentored five graduate students.

SERVICE & PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Direct Social Work Practice

2014-present Director
 MU School of Social Work Integrative Behavioral Health Clinic (IBHC), Columbia, MO

IBHC is a free, health care clinic for uninsured Missourians in need of behavioral health care. I co-direct and co-founded IBHC. All services including individual and group therapy are provided by MU School of Social Work graduate students under the supervision of IBHC directors. IBHC is a clinic that gives back to the community by providing needed services but also a teaching tool for our graduate students.

2007-2012 Licensed Clinical Social Worker for Older Adults
 Presbyterian Homes, Chicago, IL

Presbyterian Homes is a non-profit agency serving older adults. I work in their Neighborhood Homes Division, which provides affordable housing for low-income, older adults. I provide long and short-term individual psychotherapy with a focus on depression, anxiety, life stress, and transitions; in addition, I provide case management services including financial management, community resource coordination, and assistance with entitlements. I also conduct in-home needs assessments, safety checks, crisis intervention, and psycho-educational workshops on Medicare, advance directives, coordinating health care, and advocating within the healthcare system.

2005-2007 Assistant Director of Clinical Social Work Services
Stepping-Up Psychiatric Rehabilitation Services, Chicago, IL

Stepping-Up is an adult day program providing clinical and supportive services to adults with mental illnesses who reside in skilled nursing facilities. I assisted in managing the clinical program and supervising employees; in addition, I provided clinical services to clients with serious and persistent mental illnesses and substance abuse disorders. I conducted individual and group psychotherapy sessions, developed treatment plans with a team of mental health professionals, and supervised Master's-level students from graduate schools of social work.

2003-2005 Licensed Social Worker
Mount Sinai Hospital, Chicago, IL
Outpatient Dialysis & Medical Intensive Care Unit

Mount Sinai is a non-profit hospital serving uninsured, impoverished, and largely minority populations residing on the West Side of Chicago. I provided direct services to individuals and families. I conducted bio-psychosocial assessments and long-term care plans with individuals and families in an outpatient dialysis clinic. In addition, I coordinated local and federal benefits for clients and supervised Master's level students from local graduate schools of social work.

2003-2005 Licensed Social Worker
Apple Home Health, Chicago, IL
Homebound Geriatric Division

Apple Home Health provides in-home medical care, primarily with older adults. I assessed in-home safety and coordinated community services for older adults. In addition, I provided education and coordinated services for caregivers and client families, conducted long-term care planning, and conducted brief counseling.

2001-2002 MSW Intern
United Jewish Council, New York, NY
Division of Homebound Geriatric Service Program

UJC provides social work services to older adults on Manhattan's lower East Side. I assessed in-home safety and support of older adults who were homebound, coordinated community services for clients, and educated family members and community members on issues affecting the aging population (e.g., coordinating insurance, health, safety).

1999 Psychology Intern
COMHAR Inc. Adult Day Services and Clubhouse, Philadelphia, PA
Adult Dually-Diagnosed Community Mental Health Clinic

The adult day program provides clinical and supportive services to adults with co-occurring mental illness and substance use disorders. I conducted daily community living skills and therapeutic game groups and co-led weekly psychotherapy groups with clients. I also developed treatment plans with clients and assisted with the development of a token economy.

Macro-level Social Work Practice

2002-2003 MSW Intern
F-E-G-S, New York, NY
Business Unit for Health & Human Services: Psychiatric Division

F.E.G.S. is a non-profit health and human service system providing a range of services to individuals and families in need. I created trainings and operational manuals for the behavioral health units, conducted staff trainings on changing protocols and new technologies, and assisted with auditing, including outlining objectives, measuring outcomes, and analyzing findings.

2001-2002 MSW Intern
Jewish Community Relations Council, New York, NY
Commission on Intergroup Relations and Community Concerns

JCRC is an agency that seeks to connect communities and empower people who are underserved through programming and advocacy. I staffed committees and projects, maintained multi-ethnic coalitions for peace and community safety, and developed programs to address community concerns regarding the September 11th terrorist attacks. In addition, I developed trauma-related educational programs, conferences, and trainings for social service professionals and performed qualitative and quantitative analyses of performance measures for grant research and writing, strategic planning, and needs assessment purposes.
